Committee Named By Dewey to Help Cut Building Costs

Governor Is Determined People Shall Have Hospitals, Schools, Homes for Less

Albany, N. Y., May 4 (AP)—Governor Dewey today appointed a 132-member statewide committee on housing and construction in a move he said was designed to help "break the cost of building."

Ulster county is represented on the committee by Samuel Doyle of Cottekill, president of the Ulster County Trades Council and business agent for Local 17, Iron Workers Union.

Dewey declared in a statement that "since the end of the war, the State Administration has been trying to get more houses built at sale and rental prices which moderate income families, particularly veterans, can afford."

He said he expected members of the committee to "bring to a reality the pledges made at separate conferences this year to break the cost of building the homes, schools, hospitals and factories we so vitally need for our people."

Another job of the commission, he said, was to recommend persons for appointment to the five-member statewide building code commission, authorized by the 1949 Legislature.

He indicated he would appoint the commission upon its return from a six-week European tour which he starts tomorrow.

The law creating the commission was a major part of Dewey's program to cut down the cost of home construction.

The governor proposed to give the commission power to establish a code curbing the force of law. The Legislature, however, trimmed the proposal by giving the commission authority only to formulate a uniform statewide building code, which, under terms of the law, does not have to be accepted by any locality.

The committee named today comprised representatives of labor in the building trades, contractors, members of engineering and architectural professions, officials of savings banks and insurance companies and the public.

It will be headed by Herman T. Stiehm, state housing commissioner. Stiehm will appoint sub-chairmen for the New York city area and for other sections of the state.

Bodies to Arrive

Haiti Victory Will Bring 5,319 Bodies of War Dead

New York, May 4 (AP)—The army transport Haiti Victory is due to dock here today with the bodies of 5,319 war dead, bringing to 150,000 the total number of bodies of fallen Americans returned from overseas since the war's end.

Memorial services will be held at the Brooklyn Army Base before the bodies are placed aboard trains for their homeward trips. The army said that of the 150,000 soldier dead returned from the various war theatres, 99,446 have been brought back from Europe.

Four Men Trapped In Burning Mine

Rescue Workers Pump Air Down Shaft for Ventilation

Girardville, Pa., May 4 (AP)—Four men are trapped 800 feet underground today in a burning anthracite mine.

The miners are entombed in No. 5 colliery of the Gilberton Coal Company near this eastern Pennsylvania town.

Rescue workers pumped compressed air down the smoke-filled shaft in an effort to provide ventilation for the trapped men.

Water pumps, however, broke down. Company officials expressed fears that the trapped men may drown before they are reached.

"We have no idea where the men are or what their condition is," a company spokesman said.

He identified the trapped men as: William O'Brien, 53, Girardville; William Kelly, 49, Shenandoah; Joseph Wovak, 34, Shenandoah; and Raymond Eys, 35, Girardville.

Mine Superintendent Elmer Christ said he believed the blaze was caused by a short-circuit in electric wiring which ignited mine timbers.

Michael Caulfield, Girardville miner, who escaped from the mine with three other workmen, told a reporter that Kelly, Wovak and Eys were working at the third level—800 feet down—when they were forced back to the surface because of the heavy smoke.

O'Brien, Caulfield said, probably is at the fourth level, 1,100 feet down.

Only eight men were in the mine when the fire was discovered last night (10 p. m. EST).

Several rescue workers, wearing asbestos suits and gas masks, were lowered into the smoking shaft today. They reached the second level—500 feet down—but were forced back to the surface because of the heavy smoke.

85 Men Fly Overseas
Marham Albans, Norfolk, England, May 4 (AP)—Eighty-five men, the largest airplane passenger load ever to fly the Atlantic, landed here today in the U. S. Air Force's Globemaster transport plane. The huge Douglas C-74 made it a "routine" flight from Brookley Field, near Mobil, Ala., with stops at Bermuda and the Azores. "There was nothing at all to it," said the pilot, Lt. Walter Wall of Columbia, S. C. The 73 airmen flew as passengers with the crew of 12. The Globemaster made the 4,480-mile trip in 27 hours flying time.

Poughkeepsie, May 4 (AP)—The board of education has launched a campaign to sound out public opinion on a new high school building project estimated at $3,000,000. Grade and high school pupils have been given letters to distribute to their parents, and later members of the Parent-Teacher Association will circulate petitions relative to purchasing a 50-acre site for $150,000 on the Murphy farm in the Town of Poughkeepsie.

Timely Report of Auto Disappearance Is Factor Aiding Authorities

Timely report of a car theft in the city last night set all area police units on the trail of a local youth last night and resulted in his capture at Bloomington following a chase out Route 32 during which Deputy Sheriff Harry Kenter emptied his revolver in an attempt to overtake the auto.

The youth, Richard Joseph Carey, Jr., 19, of 63 Newkirk avenue, was snatched at local police headquarters early this morning on two charges of second degree grand larceny, and later police booked George Dominic LaTorce, 20, of 18 Chapel street, on a similar charge.

LaTorce was allegedly with Carey on a ride in another stolen auto Monday night, and the second charge against Carey is for the same reported theft.

Deputy Sheriff Kenter and County Investigator Clayton Vredenburg apprehended Carey in a driveway of the LaTorce farm at Bloomington, after the state and local police and sheriff's men had combed the area where the youth abandoned the car.

Both young men waived examination and were held for the grand jury when they were arraigned.

The Kingston Lions Club will purchase a $500 moving picture projector for use of the city recreation program, it was announced at the regular meeting of the Lions at the Governor Clinton Hotel Tuesday noon.

Purchase of the projector was approved by the board of directors of the club Monday night along with other appropriations totaling almost $1,000.

"The projector will be used at the recreation center at 97 Broadway for winter and rainy-day programs and in the city parks during summer evenings."

Other appropriations include one of $500 to send a youngster to the speech clinic at Ithaca again this summer, and lesser amounts to the cancer, Girl Scout and Y.M.C.A. drives, a fund to send a nine-year-old girl to the National Hospital for Speech Defects in New York city for an examination, and one to the Mothers' Club of School No. 5 for welfare work.

4-Power Talk Set On Berlin

If All Goes Well City's Traffic Might Resume Next Week, Ministers Meet May 25

Statement Given

U. S. Spokesmen Tells of Today's Session on Negotiations

New York, May 4 (AP)—Soviet Russia has agreed to meet with the three western powers to work out details for lifting the Berlin blockades and holding a four-power meeting of the Foreign Ministers' Council.

"It is now possible to consider detailed arrangements," the United States announced today. Representatives of the four powers were called into session at 12:30 p. m. (11:30 a. m. Eastern Standard Time). The conferees are:

United States—Philip C. Jessup, Soviet Union—Jakob A. Malik, Great Britain—Sir Alexander Cadogan.

France—Jean Chauvel.

If all goes well, the meeting will make it likely that the Berlin blockades can be lifted sometime next week and the foreign ministers will meet in Paris around May 25. The last meeting of the foreign ministers, held in London in December 1947, ended in failure over the German question. Since that time the western powers have thwarted the Russian imposed blockade of Berlin by means of the airlift, and imposed a counter-blockade restricting movement of goods to the Russian (eastern) zone of Germany. The western powers also have sponsored the setting up of a government for western Germany.

The foreign ministers who will meet in Paris are:

United States—Dean Acheson, Soviet Union—Andrei Y. Vishinsky.

Great Britain—Ernest Bevin, France—Robert Schumann.

The foreign ministers also will take important deputies. Jessup is expected to accompany Acheson. The Americans hope that Jessup, who is a designated American ambassador at large, will sit for the United States when and if Acheson returns home.

A statement announcing today's meeting was issued at 9:30 a. m. (8:30 a. m. EST) by Porter McKeever, spokesman for the United States delegation to the United Nations.

"In view of the fact that the exchange of views between Mr. (Philip C.) Jessup, acting on behalf of the three western powers, and Mr. (Jakob) Malik, on behalf of the Soviet Union, have reached a point where it is now possible to consider detailed arrangements for the reciprocal lifting of the restrictions which have been in existence since March 1948 on communications with the city of Berlin and between the zones in Germany, and for the holding of a meeting of the Council of Foreign Ministers, the next conversation will include the representatives of the French and British governments as well as Mr. Malik and Mr. Jessup. The four representatives have arranged to meet at U. S. U.N. (American Mission to the United Nations), 2 Park avenue, at 12:30 today."

Contact With Jessup
Today's Four-Power meeting was called after Malik made contact with Jessup, a diplomatic source indicated.

It was believed the Russian representative, notified the U. S. envoy either late last night or early this morning.

It is obvious that Russia now agrees with the western nations that the negotiations have advanced to the Four-Power stage.

Jessup, Sir Alexander Cadogan of Britain and Jean Chauvel of France, had spent the day yesterday waiting for word from Malik.

It was believed the Soviet official would arrive today.

Martin, Democrats Delay Housing Vote

Most of T-H Law Might Stay in Act

Washington, May 4 (AP)—Truman Democrats today won a fight to send the Wood labor bill back to a House committee.

Their margin on the motion to recommit was three votes—212 to 209.

This outcome left the House with no labor bill before it—in effect ending the great labor battle with a stalemate.

Washington, May 4 (AP)—The House of Representatives, having punctured President Truman's program for Taft-Hartley Act repeal, gathers again today for another hair-raising vote on the Wood labor bill.

Last night a high-riding alliance of Republicans and southern Democrats won a 217-203 House victory for the Wood bill, which would keep most of the Taft-Hartley law on the books.

Today a motion was in order to "recommit" the bill—that is, send it to the House Labor Committee. That might be the same as killing it. Success of the motion would probably mean that the House, without any labor bill before it at all, would sit back and wait for the Senate to pass a labor measure and send it over.

For the victorious coalition, this "recommit" motion was a last hurdle to be leaped before the Wood bill could be finally, formally adopted and sent to the Senate for consideration.

For the opponents of the Taft-Hartley Act it was a last desperate chance.

If they could swing eight votes away from the Wood bill, they would win a reversal of last night's result.

House Democratic leaders sought today to get those eight votes. Rep. Priest (D-Tenn.), the party "whip," whose job it is to sell the Democratic congressional program, urged the repeal of the Taft-Hartley Act.

Likewise the men of labor unions, some of them despondent, confused, and bitter over the trend of events, used their gifts of persuasion on the lawmakers, trying to win those eight votes.

The Wood bill leaves the name of Rep. Wood (D-Ga.) who also is chairman of the House Un-American Activities Committee.

It would "repeal" the Taft-Hartley Act—on paper—but would then re-enact most of its important features.

For example, it could continue the present provisions for 80-day injunctions in "national emergency" strikes, for prosecution of "unfair labor practices" and for temporary injunctions during the trial of unfair practice cases.

It would keep the present provision for non-Communist oaths, but would require them of company officers as well as union officers.

It would continue to ban closed shop contracts—that is, contracts under which only union members can be hired and kept on the payroll.

But an important amendment approved at the last minute would permit closed shop contracts in any state which passes a law specifically permitting such agreements.

Regardless of what happened to the Wood bill today—whether sent to the Senate or back to committee—the House had soundly whipped the Truman administration in this round, and delivered a shattering blow to the whole Truman legislative program.

Spaulding Removes Flatbush Trustee

Ellenville Votes $326,000 Budget For School Use

Sum of $80,000 Will Be Raised by Taxation; Lighting Proposal Defeated

At one of the largest attended school meetings held in recent years in the village of Ellenville, the budget as originally proposed by the school board was adopted after considerable discussion Tuesday evening. The budget calls for an appropriation of $326,000, of which $80,000 will be raised by local taxation.

A proposal to raise an additional $15,000 to have flood lights erected on the school athletic field for night ball games was defeated by a vote of 50 to 73. There were five blank ballots.

An additional sum of $3,500 to be raised on the village for the Ellenville Public Library was voted favorably. This is the usual sum required.

One of the main topics of discussion, in addition to the athletic field lighting project, was a proposal to raise money to build a swimming pool. This matter was discussed at great length and resulted in the final adoption of a motion to raise $12,000 toward the cost of a pool.

Approval of the pool appropriation, which was by a substantial vote, came after it had been stated that if the sum of $12,000 was voted, the balance probably could be supplied from current funds of the school board.

The meeting just evening not only was one of the largest attended in some time but it was also a lengthy meeting with considerable discussion. At times Chairman H. Westlake Coons had difficulty in maintaining order, so anxious were residents of the village to discuss the proposals before the meeting.

On the adoption of the board's original budget there was considerable discussion. It was evident the large attendance was caused by a desire of many to see the lighting and pool projects included in the program.

H. Westlake Coons was named (Continued on Page 3, Col. 4)

Callanan Offers To Discuss Blasting

Proposal on Matter Is Referred to Laws, Rules Group

A proposal to correct the source of "blasting" complaints from the downtown area against the Callanan Road Improvement Company was referred to the Laws and Rules Committee of the Common Council and Corporation Counsel James G. Connelly last night.

Alderman Charles Cole of the 13th Ward had previously proposed through resolution restrictions on the company's blasting operations, and a letter from J. R. Callanan, president of the company, read last night, proposed a local discussion.

Callanan said he would be glad to conduct blasting operations at the quarry across the Rondout creek "in conformity with practices approved by the U. S. Bureau of Mines," as suggested in the Cole resolution, and he asked that members of the council meet with representatives of the bureau and myself to discuss a solution in detail.

A resolution introduced last night by Alderman Cole stressed that "uncontrolled automobile traffic" on Wilbur avenue was a "serious menace" to the lives of children at School No. 1, particularly at noon recess and dismissal, and he asked "that such condition be remedied by the installation of 'silent' policemen, one at the intersection of Wilbur avenue and South Wall street, and one at the junction of Wilbur avenue and the road leading to the abandoned city quarry."

It was referred to the Traffic Control Committee.

'Kickback' Charge Reason Given for Action Against Watzka

Albany, May 3 (Special)—In accordance with a decision handed down by Commissioner of Education Francis T. Spaulding on April 29, John Watzka, chairman of the Board of Trustees of Common School District No. 6, Town of Ulster, Ulster county, has been removed from office.

The removal order directed that the annual meeting in said district held on May 3, elect a new trustee to fill the vacancy caused by removal.

Under the education law, Trustee Watzka is ineligible to hold office for a period of one year from the date of removal.

A petition for Trustee Watzka's removal was instituted by a group of 25 taxpayers of the school district in July, 1948.

The specific charges against Watzka were his alleged demand for a $100 "kickback" from Principal Thelma Metzger, of the Emma Wygant School in that district, for renewal of her 1948-1949 contract and willful violation and neglect of duty in that he did not keep the Emma Wygant School building and sanitary facilities in safe and proper condition.

Based on "Kickback Demand" Commissioner Spaulding's decision to remove Watzka from office was based chiefly on the alleged demand for a "kickback" from Principal Metzger. The commissioner pointed out that "while it is, of course, the duty of the trustees to keep the building and sanitary facilities in safe and proper condition, this is the joint duty of all trustees. . . there would be no reason to hold that such neglect is the sole responsibility of one trustee."

Affidavits supporting the removal of Watzka were filed by Principal Thelma Metzger, Superintendent of the Second Supervisory District, Clarence Johnson, of Saugerties, and four women taxpayers of the district, Mrs. Helen Sulko, Mrs. Helen Evans, Mrs. Pauline Kish and Mrs. Gustano DiMico.

Principal 24 Years
Mrs. Metzger, who was principal at the Emma Wygant School in Flatbush for 24 years, resigned after the alleged incident in the kickback and is now teaching in the Kingston city school system.

In her affidavit, Mrs. Metzger alleges that in April 1948 when her contract for the school year 1948-49 was under discussion, Watzka stated to her that he would give her a contract for $2,500 provided she would give him $100.

The affidavits submitted by the four women alleged that Watzka admitted to them on May 26, 1948, that he had asked Mrs. Metzger for $100 "as a kickback before he would give her any contract."

C. A. Johnson, the district superintendent of schools for Supervisory District No. 1, stated in his affidavit that in May 1948 Watzka told him that he had asked Mrs. Metzger for money in connection with the renewal of her teacher's contract.

Trustee Watzka denied all charges. His wife, son and daughter-in-law filed affidavits supporting Watzka's denial. Supporting affidavits for Watzka also were filed by Trustee John Blough, Mrs. Helen Martin, a teacher at the Emma Wygant School; Thomas Coffey, plumber; and Mrs. Howard Kelly, janitor.

Names Hurley District
The four women also alleged in their affidavit that Trustee Watzka told them it was common practice for trustees in other districts to receive kickbacks in return for teacher's contracts. He cited specifically the trustees of the Hurley school district, the affidavit alleged.

Commissioner Spaulding's decision said in part:

"There are other charges of failure to cause necessary repairs to be made to the sewage system of the school during the spring of 1948, resulting in unpleasant fumes being present in the building, toilets backing up on several occasions, and the septic tank overflowing into the school grounds."

"In view of the weight of evidence against him as represented by affidavits of the four witnesses to whom he admitted the statement on one occasion, and who are disinterested persons, as well as the statement of the district (Continued on Page 3, Col. 5)

Republican Moves Over To Minority

Buboltz, Martin Insist Aldermen Be Given Copies of Answers Filed With Clerk

Challenges Group Objects to Authority Acting as Chief Body in New Project

Action on the city's proposed housing project was delayed for at least a month when the Common Council voted last night seven to six for adjournment in preference to recessing until next week.

The council backed requests by Twelfth Ward Alderman James E. Martin (R) and Fourth Ward Alderman John Buboltz (D) for individual copies of answers by the Kingston Housing Authority to their previously introduced resolutions.

Alderman Buboltz said he failed to see how the councilmen, who work during the daytime, would have sufficient time to study in a week the housing authority's answers, and Martin said he felt that a month would be "nothing short of a fair time."

Martin's vote plus the six Democratic votes won the month's adjournment.

This followed a motion to recess for a week, which was defeated by a seven to six vote, and the count was the same for the usual month's adjournment on a resolution offered by Alderman Buboltz and seconded by Sixth Ward Alderman Peter F. Simpson (D).

The Martin and Buboltz requests for copies for each alderman of the housing authority's answers to questions in their resolutions followed a question by Alderman-at-large Charles J. Turck asking whether the councilmen wanted the answers read by City Clerk Bernhard S. Kramer.

No motion followed and Martin said it appeared to him that the question should be on the proposal to supply copies of the answers to the councilmen.

"This came more than midway in the session and Turck announced a recess. The aldermen generally went into a huddle prior to the usual committee meetings after a first recess, and when they returned to their seats they voted in favor of receiving individual copies of the answers."

The answers involved are based on the 26-point Buboltz resolution and seven resolutions by Alderman Martin adopted at the previous council session. Three points in the Buboltz document and two of the Martin resolutions have been vetoed by Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk.

Asked For Replies
Councilman Buboltz said that he had asked for written replies when he submitted the resolution, and declared: "We met a week ago tonight (the council and housing authority) and I asked Mr. Davis to give us written copies. . . I don't think it is a good way to do business."

Martin also said he had asked for copies when he offered his resolutions, "and I still ask that it be carried out." Both he and his constituents, he added, "want to see the facts and figures."

Albany, N. Y., May 4 (AP)—The State Labor Department reported today that unemployment insurance benefits paid during the first 16 weeks of 1949 totaled $115,900,000. It was nearly half the total paid for all of 1948.

Benefits paid last year aggregated $239,000,000.

The department's division of placement and unemployment insurance also reported that the number of persons on unemployment insurance rolls, which increased steadily starting last October, dropped slightly during the week ending April 15.

Port Ewen Votes Budget of $30,845

At the annual meeting of School District No. 13, Port Ewen, held last evening the budget of $30,845 was adopted by a vote of 30 to 9. Amasa Smith was elected to succeed himself as trustee for a three-year term and J. R. Kelley was elected to succeed himself for the one-year term.

Mrs. Ethel Sleight was named clerk, Clifford Finley was re-elected treasurer and Edith Schryver was re-elected collector. Kingston High School was designated as the school for academic pupil attendance and transportation of high school pupils was voted.

A report was given by Trustee Meleski on behalf of the committee which has been making a study of centralization of schools in the town of Esopus. No action was taken on the proposition.

4-Power Talks...

cial himself spent yesterday waiting for instructions from Moscow regarding the joint western powers' statement handed to him following Monday's meeting here of Jessup, Cadogan and Chauvel.

It was believed generally that the U.S.-British-French statement contained, among other things, these two points:

1. The lifting of the blockade soon, perhaps next week.
2. A suggested date for a meeting of the Council of Foreign Ministers. Informal circles believe the suggested date to be May 25.

The Council, composed of the foreign ministers of the U. S., Britain, France and Russia, is expected to deal with the problem of Germany as a whole. Under the rotation system followed in the past, the next council meeting would be in Paris.

To date the east-west talks in New York have involved only Jessup and Malik. The U. S., however, pressed the Soviet envoy to permit Britain and France to sit in. The negotiations began when Russia said she would agree to end the blockade and attend a foreign ministers' meeting. The western diplomats have declared they would not accept any proposal which would interfere with western plans for creating a separate state in western Germany.

Extra Jurors Report

In County Court this morning the additional panel of jurors was in attendance. None asked to be excused. An action for work, labor and services was removed for trial and a jury taken in the action which is brought by Harco Motors, Inc., against George Reeve, Kirland F. Snyder for plaintiff and Charles H. Gaffney for defendant.

Trailer Camp Open

The Sunset Trailer Camp, located on Route 28 opposite The Barn, is now open for business. The new trailer camp is operated by A. W. Gilbert, proprietor of Gil's Garage.

Ellenville Votes

Chairman of the meeting; with Mrs. Marian Hart, clerk of the board, acting as clerk of the meeting.

Following adoption of the original budget the matter of an additional appropriation for the Ellenville Library was brought up. This was quickly approved.

Would Install Lights

Then came a proposal that lights be installed on the athletic field. One proposal was that lights sufficient for night soft ball be installed at a cost which was estimated to be around $8,000. There was also a proposition advanced that larger lights be installed so that hard ball might also be played under a fully lighted field. This was estimated to cost around $15,000. The question was discussed at length and a motion was made that there be raised $15,000 for lights. On the vote the proposal was defeated by a vote of 90 to 73.

The proposal that a swimming pool fund be provided was then made and there were various estimates as to the probable cost, some running as high as $35,000, others including engineer's estimates the cost of a pool 200 feet long would run as high as $50,000.

At this point it was disclosed that any fund for a pool, like the other special appropriation for the library, would be in addition to the money originally voted for school operation.

A motion was finally proposed that $12,000 be raised toward the cost of a pool. This was made after it had been stated that if $12,000 was raised the school board probably could find sufficient funds available to finance the rest of the cost, indicating that the board had some unexpended funds available. The result was approval of the $12,000 appropriation.

At the conclusion of the school meeting a caucus was held at which time six names were proposed as candidates for trustee. The men whose names expire are Henry L. Schipp, recently elected mayor of Ellenville, and Frank Muller. The term is for three years. Names proposed were Henry L. Schipp, Frank Muller, Charles Reed, Al Wamot, Jack Siegel and Ed Chasen. These names will be submitted to the voters today for election.

Leland P. Pulling was renominated and will be unopposed for library trustee for the five-year term. His will be the only name on the ballot today for that office.

78th Reunion

Rice will address the gathering.

Masons Enroll 7,000

New York, May 4 (AP)—Seven thousand new members joined Masonic lodges in New York state last year, bringing the total state membership to 300,000. This figure was reported to the Grand Lodge at the 168th Annual State Convention, which today entered the second day of its three-day meeting. Approximately 2,000 delegates from all over the state are attending the convention.

superintendent of schools to the effect that Mr. Watzka admitted it to him on another occasion, I am compelled to find Mr. Watzka guilty of this charge and to direct his removal.

Trustee Watzka was represented by Attorney William A. Kaercher. Andrew J. Cook, Sr., appeared for the petitioners.

Browne Is Elected

At the annual election of School District No. 6 held last night at the school Joseph M. Browne was elected trustee for a three-year term to fill the vacancy caused by Mr. Watzka's removal.

Other officers named were: Charles J. Thano, trustee for two years; Mrs. Elsie Sorenson, collector; and Mrs. Helen Sulko, clerk.

The meeting was the largest attended in the history of the school district.

Unemployment Decreases

Washington, May 4 (AP)—Unemployment dropped 151,000 while employment rose 172,000 in April, the Census Bureau reported today. It was the second straight month of improvement in the labor situation. But the bureau said that even so, the rise in employment was "somewhat below seasonal expectations."

No Political Objections

Washington, May 4 (AP)—Secretary of State Acheson said today the United States has no political objections to an American government loan to Spain. But he emphasized at a news conference the United States does not see how Spain can qualify for American credits until it takes fundamental economic reforms.

more than 200 miles southwest of Shanghai and an equal distance south of Nanking. It claimed 12 more towns in the continuing Red push.

The government central news said many points near Hangchow to the north and northwest, were under Red attack. In Shanghai, more Nationalist troops—evidently a division—boarded waiting ships this morning. The men were fully equipped, but there was no word of their destination.

The last big American liner due in Shanghai before May 23 also was getting up steam at its pier here today. The ship, the American President Lines' General Gordon, took aboard 1,200 passengers, including some 800 Chinese going to Hong Kong. Only 50 Americans went aboard.

A U. S. Navy spokesman said it has ships available to evacuate the 1,650 Americans still here, if necessary; and that the Navy will stay as long as needed.

He told a news conference that American, French and British naval vessels withdrew from Shanghai because of a reported Red plot to block the channel to the sea.

But he added that the Navy has not left the Shanghai area, and that three destroyers and a landing craft remain downstream near Woosung.

The U. S. Consulate in Canton meanwhile urged that all American women and children leave the interior cities of South China. Planes may not be available to bring them out later, it explained.

Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk's letter asking for this legislation said that the 1948 income from this source was approximately $19,035.83.

The aldermen voted, on recommendation of the mayor, to Mills & Ward, New York accounting firm, a contract for auditing city accounts at an average rate of $25 a day for those employed "providing that the total fee along with traveling and subsistence expenses does not exceed $2,000."

Fire Chief Joseph L. Murphy was granted permission to attend the New York State Fire Chiefs' Convention at Syracuse June 5, and a request from Clement A. Baker, State Department of Agriculture and Markets, asking the presence of the local sealer of weights and measures at Rochester convention July 19, 20 and 21, was referred to William A. A zoning change requested by Salvatore Castiglione for a property at 495 Albany avenue, was granted. The petitioner said he will use the property for the sale of musical instruments.

Another zoning change was granted to Harold Hommel, 261

ECA Aids Iceland Fisheries

Paris (AP)—Marshall Plan funds are saving Iceland's "lifeline"—the fishing industry. R. H. Fielder, European Cooperation Administration fisheries specialist, said after a survey trip to Iceland that ECA funds are being used to modernize their fish processing plant and to outfit the herring industry. The significant thing about the expansion of Iceland's fishing isn't only in saving it for Iceland, Fielder said, "but it is providing animal protein food for Europe at a time when meat is in short supply."

Water Learns, Has Long Memory, Is Johnson Report

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE (A.P. Science Editor)

New Orleans, May 4 (AP)—Water does something that resembles learning.

It even imitates the mental quality called understanding, says Dr. H. M. Johnson, Tulane University psychologist.

More startling, water seems to have a very long memory.

The experiments to support this were made by Dr. N. E. Dorsey of the National Bureau of Standards. For 20 years Dorsey alternately froze and thawed samples of water enclosed in glass tubes. The water was pure and the tubes very clean, also sealed hermetically.

After a few freezings these water samples no longer froze, until their temperatures dropped close to zero, Fahrenheit.

In some cases one sample of water preferred a different temperature for freezing than the other samples. The largest difference between these preferences was nearly 20 degrees, Fahrenheit.

Dr. Johnson says that scientists have known for a long time that non-living systems, such as water, can learn, remember and forget. But because this is usually slight and doesn't last long, psychologists have assumed that only living beings have memories.

He explains that the water samples did something very like learning when they lowered their freezing temperatures.

Their long memories were indicated by the fact that once the water samples had "learned" a low temperature, the lapse of time between freezings did not make them forget. Even a lapse of months failed to make a difference in the lower temperature.

"I have no objection," said Dr. Johnson, "to saying that the sample of water had come to understand its task. Those who do not like to say so, should recognize from Dorsey's experiments that non-living as well as living physical systems behave according to their past experiences, and thus should no longer assume that changes in learning behavior necessarily mean 'understanding.' Dr. Johnson made his report to the Southern Society of Philosophy and Psychology.

Colorful Detergent

To prevent waste and assure full service from each box of detergent, one manufacturer developed a color signal. When the user adds the pink powder to the solution, the water turns green when the proper mixture is reached. The water will turn yellow if too much powder is added.

Irish Slugger Declares Own War On Red Officers

Vienna, May 4 (AP)—A fighting army Irishman who started a one-man war against Russian had a headache today. So did the U. S. Army.

And eight Russian officers had sore jaws.

There was an unhappy feeling that the man who writes Russia's notes of diplomatic protest would have writer's cramp before long, too.

F.F.C. Edward J. Touhey, of Howard Beach, Long Island, N. Y.,—six feet three inches tall, 230 pounds and the alleged cause of it all—was under observation in a locked room at a Vienna army hospital.

Marshall Col. Willard K. Liebel, had been drinking but not enough to cause all this disturbance.

Liebel didn't specify how much alcohol he thought it should have required yesterday to cause a man to:

Start fighting the sentry outside the Soviet-occupied Grand Hotel in Vienna's International district.

Walk across the street to the swank Imperial Hotel and slug a Russian officer standing there.

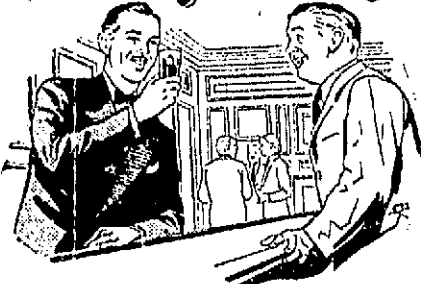

Enter the hotel and start swinging at the available supply of Russian officers. Some said the stockpile was eight, others said 12.

All agreed Touhey took them on one at a time. Eight went down.

As a grand finale he grabbed an iron chair and took out after a Russian colonel. Then American military police grabbed him. Under heavy escort, he was taken away by ambulance.

A crowd of several hundred Austrians attended the festivities.

Once you try it—

You'll always buy it!

See how mild and tasty Mount Vernon really is! Then you'll know why it doubled in popularity in one single year. You'll make it your choice for home use too.

Sponge Is Used
To Find CancerBy ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
(A. P. Science Reporter)

Buffalo, N. Y., May 4 (AP)—A simple, painless test for cancer, using a sponge as a detector, was described today by Dr. S. A. Gladstone of New York city.

The test is made by rubbing a gelatin sponge firmly against the part of the body being examined. An expert then checks the sponge to see if it picked up any cancer cells.

The test has been used on 700 persons, and has not yet missed finding a cancer if it existed, Dr. Gladstone told the New York State Medical Society.

He said the test is about as accurate and reliable as cutting out a piece of tissue and examining it. This surgery, called biopsy, has long been the standard, confirming test for cancer.

The sponge does this with painless, knifeless surgery. The sponge test has found a few cancers missed by biopsy, he added.

The test has been used in checking for cancer of the cervix, the neck of the uterus or womb, cancer of the rectum, skin, mouth, esophagus and lung. It found some cancers of the cervix before there were any signs of cancer at all, he said.

It's now being used also in looking for stomach cancer. A stomach tube carrying several pieces of the sponge has to be swallowed.

Dr. Gladstone, professor of pathology at New York Polytechnic Medical School and Hospital, developed the sponge test a year ago. It's being used now in other cities.

The city of Babylon possibly as early as 3000 B.C. was a market place to which metals, wool and grain were brought.

Faith of Parents
Rekindled in Hunt
For Soldier Son

By ARTHUR EVERETT

New York, May 4 (AP)—What would you do if you were Harry Lepselter?

Your only boy, Nathan, 21, went down with an American bomber in France in 1944. Officially, he has not been heard from since. By all the odds of war, he is dead.

But you can't picture the boy dead. You feel he is alive. You figure he has amnesia or was badly hurt. Maybe he can't find his way home to Brooklyn, where he was born.

So you decided to go to him. Your friends try to be kind. But in their eyes they seem to be telling you:

"Harry, the war's over. Your boy is dead. It's too bad. But lots of other boys died, too, you know."

Sure, you know lots of other boys died. But they weren't your boy. They weren't the kid you watched grow up to five feet, 10 inches of rugged young manhood. Your friends probably are right, but...

You go to the newspapers. They try to help. But newspapers can't print the same story over and over again. They tell you they need "a new angle" to keep your story alive. But the only angle you know anything about is the sharp one inside you. It has been there ever since that falling bomber carried a piece of your heart down with it.

So you keep on looking. You go to France and talk to people there. Some of them think they saw your boy alive after his plane went down. But you can't be sure they aren't just telling you what you want to hear. They have no proof.

You write to Washington, letter after letter. But they have done everything they are supposed to do. And the War Department reminds you again that it was a big war, lots of boys killed or missing.

Lie Awake Nights

You work a few days a week in a Broadway restaurant where you are a waiter. You lie awake nights at home in Brooklyn. You spend every cent you can get to keep the search going, mailing letters and your boy's picture here and abroad.

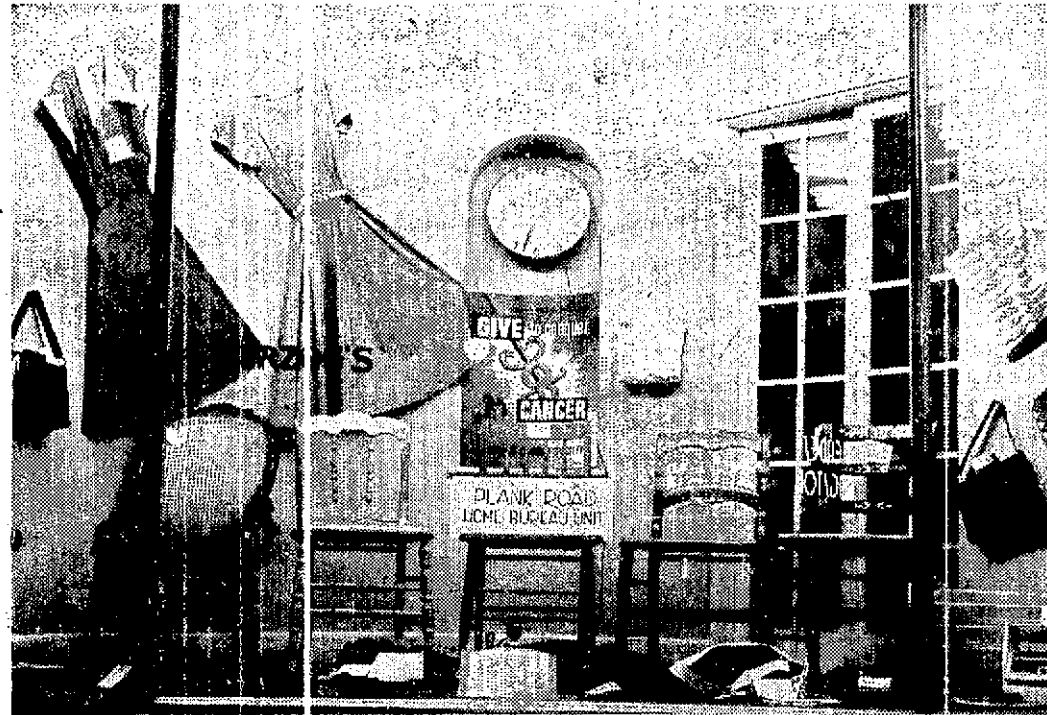

You neglect your health. Your hair grows white. Your body gets thinner and a little more bent. Your 55 years get heavier.

Your wife, Dora, shares your faith. You picket together during an Air Forces Association convention in New York. It gets you publicity and pictures. Maybe it will get your story some place where it hasn't been before. Maybe Nathan will see it and remember.

You know you should give up. But you can't. The years are running out on you.

Then this week, a solid, dark-haired lad of 25, H. H. Tucker of (2344 Pennsylvania) Charleston, W. Va., shows up. He says he knew Nathan overseas. He claims to have seen him alive in a Belgian hospital two months after his plane went down.

There, you say to yourself, I knew he was alive. I knew it. But that was more than four years ago.

Tucker says his story has led the War Department to reopen its investigation into your boy's disappearance.

So you go back to your work in the Broadway restaurant. And back at night to your home in Brooklyn. And you keep on writing letters, asking questions, hoping... hoping... hoping.

What else would you do, if you were Harry Lepselter?

Boy Drowns

Catskill, May 4.—(Karl Frederick) Walde, 7, drowned in the Catskill creek off the dock on lower main street about 5 p. m. Monday. Two young companions said he became excited over a bite on his fishline and fell overboard. Efforts of firemen from Citizens Hose Company to revive him failed. The body was recovered in 12 feet of water after he had fallen into the stream.

McKENNEY
ON BRIDGEOnly Shrewd Play
Makes This SlamBy WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY
America's Card Authority
Written for NEA Service

There are millions of bridge players who never enter tournament competition, but who nevertheless get a lot of fun out of the game. I can still see the twinkle in his eye as Dr. Walter K. Myers, of Washington, D. C., told me of some of his early days at bridge.

The doctor said he played a lot of bridge at Princeton, where he graduated in 1925, and bridge was the favorite pastime among the young doctors at Johns Hopkins, where he was located until 1929. He is now associated with Emergency Hospital and George Washington University Medical School in Washington.

Dr. Myers told me that years ago in Boston he played a little tournament bridge, but now he gets all his enjoyment out of social bridge. He believes that in bridge, as in other games, you have to carry the ball to win, so he has the reputation of being quite an aggressive bidder. He played today's hand with a partner as aggressive as he is, which accounts for the bidding.

The doctor made a sound opening bid of one club, and I do not question the bid of two hearts by North. But when the doctor bid only three clubs, North was wrong in jumping to four hearts. This bid encouraged Dr. Myers to make another constructive bid of four spades. When North jumped to six hearts, the doctor elected to carry the ball and went to six no trump. He played the hand well to make it.

The opening heart lead was won in dummy with the king. The ace of hearts was cashed and the third heart led. The diamond return by West was won with the queen. The doctor then played a small spade and finessed dummy's ten. He

Pale Hands

Massage your hands frequently with warm olive oil, rub it into the cuticles once or twice a week as a safeguard against brittle, ragged edges. Before digging around in the garden, dig your fingernails into a cake of soap and let the soap remain under the nails while you do your planting. When the day's gardening is over, under-nail soap residue will disappear when you wash your hands or take a bath.

Heart Attack Fatal To Smith Stallion

Woodstock, May 3.—Black Jacket, a famous thoroughbred stallion, consigned by the Eastern Remount Area, Front Royal, Va., to the Smith Brothers Riding School at Katsbaan two years ago, died of a heart attack April 20. Among his get are several fillies and colts owned by members of the Woodstock Riding Club and which are expected to be shown at the Spring Horse Show to be held in June.

In his two years at Smith Brothers' Farm, Black Jacket stood to improve the blood lines of those whose owners could take advantage of the opportunity afforded them. It is known that in addition to members of the local club, owners from as far away as Idaho brought their mares to Katsbaan for breeding. Black Jacket who was raised by the famous breeder S. D. Riddle, was by Black Toney out of Friars Carse. Among others the get of Black Toney included such great horses as Bimeleck, Black Helen, Balladier, Billionaire, and Black Gold. Friars Carse, considered one of the nation's leading dams, was buried last winter on Brayley's Farmway farm near Man O' War. Although Black Jacket had limited opportunities with racing mares, his good get included such as Tehada, Toney Pasta, Shirley V. and Red Knees. His matings to commoner stock produced some of the finest saddlers, hunter and jumper stock.

He was a majestic animal with a magnificent gleamy black coat. He measured 16.2 hands, and weighed 1200 pounds. His admirers were many and included not only adult but junior members of the riding club who made frequent visits to the Smiths, also club members, to see Black Jacket.

The Remount Service is now in the process of liquidation, but Black Jacket will be replaced within a few days by another thoroughbred stallion.

Alice Fischer's Ceramic Work Popular in South
Woodstock, May 3.—The charm of the ceramic jewelry made by Alice Fischer, local artist and craftsman, has attracted residents and visitors in Key West, Florida, according to a recent publication of The Citizen.

The newspaper article states: "Many Key Westers are wearing this very different jewelry because for the past six months it has been made by Alice Fischer right here in Key West and sold through one of the local shops. She has successfully and most interestingly recorded some of the specialties of Key West and has finished one order for a prominent Key Westerner, Edward Shumaker, president of Seaket, of some 200 amusing turtle pins and earring sets. Whimsical pelicans, dancing fish and palm trees are more of her Key West data recorded in ceramic pins and earrings." In this locale, Miss Fischer is best known for her pins, lockets and earrings that so definitely resemble heirloom pieces. She plans to return to Woodstock later this month.

Hurley Acquires Auxiliary Tank For Fire Fighting

Increased fire protection for the Hurley Fire District has been gained through the acquisition of a 2,000-gallon water tank, Stanley Matthews, secretary of the board of fire commissioners, announced today.

Edmund Czerwinski, secretary-treasurer of the Hurley Fire Company, drove the district's Brockway truck to Maspeth, L. I., Tuesday, where the tank was mounted. Czerwinski returned late in the afternoon and delivered the equipment to the commissioners.

"We are all greatly indebted to Czerwinski for his service to the district," Secretary Matthews said. "He not only took the truck to Long Island to get the tank, but he first located it for purchase. It was a distinct contribution and the commissioners are grateful."

The tank truck will be employed as an auxiliary water carrier for the district's pumpers, which was presented by the fire company.

PIN-WORMS CAN CAUSE SERIOUS TROUBLE

Few are of Pin-Worms... only creatures that live and grow inside the human body. Medical experts say that as many as one out of three persons may be infected. And not even the most careful families can be sure of keeping their children free of them.

One of the danger signs of Pin-Worms is the annoying, embarrassing rectal itch. And this can be the warning of more serious troubles... even internal inflammation and bleeding.

Don't take chances! At the first sign of Pin-Worms, use Jovan's P-W Vermicide from your drugist. P-W contains an effective, medically approved ingredient that destroys Pin-Worms and removes them from the body.

The small, easy-to-take P-W tablets were perfected in the laboratories of the famous Jovan Co., specialists in worm remedies for over 100 years. Clin. P-W—destroys those Pin-Worms... relieve that itch.

Just Remember! P-W for Pin-Worms!

"I'll hang up now, Jimmie—
Someone else may want to use the line"

It's not too easy to say "good night" to a favorite grandson but after all, it's only fair to be considerate of your party-line neighbors.

This means the spacing of calls instead of making a whole series one after the other. It means answering the telephone as promptly as possible. It means cheerfully giving up the line in an emergency, and it means hanging up—gently—when the line's already in use.

Many of our customers would like to have a better grade of service than is now generally available—such as individual or two-party line.

We are working hard to provide the necessary switchboards, cables and other complicated equipment—and we're keeping a careful record of all such applications, which will be filled just as soon as possible.

Good Taste Today

By Emily Post
(Author of "Etiquette," "Children Are People," etc.)

CHILDREN AT TABLE

A disagreement about teaching table manners to young children is discussed in the following letter: "My husband and I disagree about the teaching of table manners to our two young daughters. I feel that they should not be allowed to put the left arm on the table while eating, and that it should remain in their lap as much as possible. My husband says this is ridiculous, as it is impossible for anyone to sit in this fashion, particularly a child. He thinks that not only should their arm remain on the table but that when necessary, a small crust of bread may be given them to hold in their left hand to use as a pusher. Will you straighten us out?"

In answer, the one thing to guard against is not to let them get into the bad habit of encircling their plate, which is what children usually do if allowed to put their arm on the table. But when eating food that is difficult to "capture," a small crust of bread is the accepted pusher. Many children begin with a piece of silver called a "pusher" and as they grow older and more adept, a small crust of bread is substituted. If a small crust of bread or "pusher" is held in the fingers just over the edge of the plate with the wrist resting against the table's edge, this will be practical as well as correct.

Excluding Father
Dear Mrs. Post: My father has never been any help to us. He has made life miserable for mother and us because of his drinking habits. He is not contributing anything to my wedding and I'd like to omit his name on the invitations and just have mother's appear. She has been the one who kept us together, and I'd like her not to have to share this honor with anyone.

Answer: Your natural impulse to emphasize your feeling for your mother is understandable, but it would serve as well to emphasize an unfortunate family situation. If your father is living at home and he and your mother are not separated, it certainly would be best to include his name on formal wedding invitations.

Thanking for Kindnesses
Dear Mrs. Post: Our mother passed away recently, and I don't know what to say when people say, "You have my deepest sympathy." Does one say only "Thank you" to this?
Answer: You can add to "Thank you," "You've been so kind. We do appreciate your sympathy." Or to a dear friend, "Mother always loved you very much."

Mrs. Post's leaflet E-15, "Manners in Public," describes manners for a gentleman accompanied by a lady when walking along the street or in a bus, streetcar or automobile. To obtain a copy, send 5 cents in coin and a stamped self-addressed envelope to her, c/o The Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y. Miss Elizabeth Schoonmaker, Ulster County Public Health Nurse, gave a talk on cancer and the new tumor clinic at the regular meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary of Kingston Lodge 350 B.P.O. She also explained the work of the new clinic.

A sound film entitled, "The Doctor Speaks His Mind," was shown. This further stressed the danger in waiting too long for treatment and emphasized the necessity of regular physical examination for early diagnosis, so that X-ray, surgery or radium treatments would be effective.

NEEDLE PIERCES HEAD

Patrick Durbin, nine months old, rests in lap of mother, Mrs. Violet Durbin, after surgeon removed a one and one-half inch needle from his scalp in Denver. Mrs. Durbin picked Pat off the floor, saw a long white thread sticking out of the base of his skull and couldn't pull it out. The needle entered the scalp in a straight line but did not reach the brain. (A.P. Wirephoto)

Boy May Sleep Through All His Life

Unconscious now for more than a year, 5-year-old Larry Dean Wilson may live on and never awaken, physicians say. His plight results from a brain injury received in an automobile accident on April 27, 1948. He's pictured in the Elkhart, Ind., General Hospital, watched over by his mother, Mrs. Donald Wilson, left, and Nurse Virginia Hursey.

Justice Addresses Annual Gathering Of Napanoch Aides

The annual Interfaith Communion Breakfast for employes of the Institution for Male Delinquent Delinquents at Napanoch was termed a great credit to the employes and a good example to others by Supreme Court Justice Isadore Bookstein, the principal speaker.

An interfaith breakfast "nuggets well for you and for all of us who participate and it demonstrates a spirit contrary to that which once prompted the late famous Dr. S. Parks Cadman to exclaim, 'I am sick and tired of people getting at each other's throats to prove their affection for God'."

"Interfaith Communion breakfasts are basically healthy because they are so true to the finest American traditions which differ from most other nations of the earth."

"How can any man belonging to any intolerant organization truly call himself Christian? Is there anything in Christianity that can justify such a point of view? Isn't it contrary to the basic tradition of Judaism, to the fundamentals of all religions, of the Ten Commandments which are no different in your faith than in mine and are in the New Testament as well as the Old?" Justice Bookstein asked.

The breakfast was held Sunday morning at the Masonic Temple at Ellenville. Among the guests were Rabbi Herbert I. Blum, Rabbi Jacob Nislick, the Rev. Francis McGuire, Attorneys LeRoy Lounsberry, Benjamin Constein, Charles Kaiser, H. Westlake Coons, Philip Slutsky and Ben Slutsky of the Nevele Country Club, Major Thomas J. Hanlon, superintendent of the institution, introduced the speaker, James Morrow presided.

Weather Forecasting
Philadelphia, Pa. (AP)—An industrial engineer reported here that scientists at three universities are measuring the electrical impulses given off by trees to aid in weather forecasting. By using a device known as an electronic potentiometer to chart the electrical impulses, the scientists have discovered that the trees react to storms days in advance of actual meteorological disturbances, a Brown Instrument Company engineer disclosed. He said the complete parallel between oncoming storms and the trees' electrical pattern was not yet known, but the electrical impulses are believed to be caused by the reaction of cosmic rays on the growth cells of the trees.

If you habla a little Espanol, you figure to have heard of Cantinflas, the Mexican comedian who rates right up there with Chaplin, Grock, Fernandel and the other belly-laugh heavyweights. Mario, as he is affectionately known to every kid south of El Paso, is a first-rate little guy, equally, at home, on stage or celluloid, and during our brief stay in Mexico City he showed us the sights and a damned good time.

The day after we arrived he took us, for a spin through the residential district—that part of Tequila Town where the primordial hobnobs with the day-after-tomorrow—and then for a look-astare at some of the countryside. Thirty miles out as we were about to turn back, we passed an impressive walled-in cemetery and, having heard that the Mexicans do interesting things with marble and chisel, I suggested that we get out and absorb a little culture.

A few words from Cantinflas, and the keeper, an old coot as white on top as Mr. Popocatepetl, swung open the gate and, for the next half hour, as we moseyed around the tombstones, the comic played guide and briefed us on the inhabitants who were taking it easy for keeps.

Among other things, Cantinflas told us about El Dia de los Muertos—the Day of the Dead. It seems that death, to Pedro Pemon, is ever imminent and he regards it with a mixture of awe and lively curiosity. And, providing he's lived a reasonably decent life, he believes that after his last drink of pulque he's a cinch to join his buddies and relatives in a land where mariaches play every evening and the dry season never comes.

Consequently, the Day of the Dead is treated as a holiday, families pack picnic lunches, arrive at the cemetery early in the morning, and until way into the evening there's mucho gaiety around the graves—kids play hide-and-seek among the tombstones, lovers hold hands, and old men puff at their pipes and pick likely spots for their own interment.

As for the food they eat—especially the pasteries—well most of it is in the shape of skulls or other symbols of death, and the hawkier who generally does the most business is the one who specializes in that special delicacy—broiled worms. This is a switch that delights the Aztec heart—when they're dead, the worms will eat them, and so on this one day of the year, they eat the worms.

As we strolled around the cemetery, Eleanor, who always has an eye peeled for the romantic, spotted a pair of identical headstones, one of which was inscribed "Matada" and the other "Mataador."

"I thought a bullfighter rated a ton of marble down here," I said, pointing to the second stone.

Cantinflas flashed the grin that stands 'em up in every man's house in Latin America. "In Spanish," he said, "matador can mean either 'killer' of bulls' or 'killer'."

"My wife reached back into a high school Spanish. Then matada is the woman he killed," she guessed.

The comedian nodded. "Then an interesting story behind the headstones," he said. "I don't know how true it is because only man who can confirm it would discuss it. Anyway . . ."

Well, I wish I could tell you the yarn coming up in the clodplops, accents and gestures of Cantinflas but, as annoyed doctors are forever telling me, there's a limit to what a linotype can do. . . .

Several decades ago, a peasant boy, Luis and Hernando lived in the same village, played together, shucked maize together, and, when they became men, worked in the fields together.

In their late 'teens, a beautiful girl named Anita and her family moved into the village, and the lads fell in love with her the first time they saw her. Anita, it appeared, preferred Hernando, the taller of the two, and so, after a decent interval he presented himself to her father, the arch exchanges were made, and bars posted for their marriage.

However, the evening before big day, Hernando, ignoring old superstition that a groom must not see the bride before the ceremony, came in from the fields to find out how Anita looked in wedding gown, but when he walked into her house he found her not only in the gown but also in the arms of his friend Luis.

Well, a moment later, Hernando's sharp husking knife was in Anita's heart. Luis, instead of running away, stood there quiet and waited for the death he knew he deserved.

But as the brokenhearted Hernando raised the knife to strike again, he suddenly thought something and stopped. And when the priest and police came, the friends swore they were both in the fields when Anita was murdered.

Of course they were arrested and questioned but, since there wasn't any evidence, let alone witnesses, they were released the evening of the third day as if things would have it, it was El Dia de los Muertos.

Hernando went from the right to his hut, paused only long enough to gather some flowers from his tiny garden, and then went to the cemetery where his beloved had been buried. But there he found Luis, also, with flowers praying at the fresh grave.

"This time I have no choice, to kill you," said Hernando. "I stole Anita from me in life,

On Easter Sunday in the First Presbyterian Church of Santa Maria, Calif., dedication services were conducted by the Rev. Phil W. Barrett, pastor, at which time memorial gifts were received in memory of Mrs. Ida B. Hancock, formerly of Kingston.

The Rev. Mr. Barrett in receiving the gifts in memory of Mrs. Hancock said, "because her life was a tribute to the church she loved, it is appropriate that gifts to her memory be placed in the sanctuary of this church."

The church appointments, consisting of several fine pieces of furniture, were in use at the First Presbyterian Church for the Easter day services. Throughout the day, large throngs of Santa Marians were in the church. It was necessary to hold two identical morning services to accommodate all worshippers in the earlier part of the day.

The sanctuary gifts include a pair of floral stands, pulpit and lectern, a pair of large chairs for pastor and guest speaker, and two lesser communion chairs for use by those who administer the sacrament.

The new appointments, hand carved and of master craftsmanship, were a year in the making by a Philadelphia firm that specializes in church woodwork. A handcarved cross within a circle is the design on each of the matching items.

The service was prefaced with two selections with memorial choruses on the Hammond organ, played by Miss Betty Potter. A girls' choir, directed by Mrs. Phil Barrett and accompanied by Miss Patricia Boyd sang for the dedication service.

The minister's address, "Precious Memories," was taken from a Biblical account of the gift of a box of alabaster ointment. The congregation sang the hymn, "For All the Saints," and there were appropriate prayers and responsive reading, with closing organ postlude, "Jubilate Deo," by Loret.

Members of the Hancock family present were Mr. and Mrs. Robert K. Hancock and children, Marcia and Bobby; Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Hancock, and Miss Lillian I. Klock, sister of the late Mrs. Hancock.

Armed Forces Say Farewell to Clay

Grafenwoehr, Germany, May 4 (AP)—The U. S. armed forces in Germany said farewell today to Gen. Lucius D. Clay.

Thirty-five generals, 11,000 troops and scores of airplanes participated in a review and tribute to the retiring military governor.

"Thank you, God bless you," said Clay, deeply moved. A 17-gun salute greeted Clay's arrival at the parade grounds. Standing at attention in a jeep he drove past the long lines of troops in his last inspection.

Eight planes in formation spelled his name in the sky. At one point in the ceremonies the general seemed close to tears.

Asks McCloy Take Post

Washington, May 4 (AP)—President Truman is urging John J. McCloy, president of the World Bank, to succeed Gen. Lucius D. Clay as chief of the American occupation zone in Germany.

Clay's retirement from the job of military governor was accepted by Mr. Truman yesterday, effective May 15.

McCloy, if he accepts the appointment as close associate expect, will become the first American civilian high commissioner in Germany. He is a former assistant secretary of state.

The switch from military to civilian control was agreed on here last month by the United States, Britain and France. This was in connection with the plan to merge their three occupation zones and promote creation of a federal German republic.

The President praised Clay for having carried out a prodigious task in "administration" and declared he is being released from his job because of his own "repeated requests."

"His name will always be associated with one of the toughest tasks and accomplishments of American history."

Although the western powers are switching from military to civilian control, occupation forces will remain in Germany indefinitely for policing and general security reasons.

Henry J. Wright of 230 Greenkill avenue died today in Kingston following a long illness. He was 54 years old.

Funeral services for Mrs. Mary Lambertson Buncie, wife of William Buncie, died Friday at the home, 150 Third avenue, were held Tuesday at 2 p. m. from the Sweet and Keyser Funeral Home, 167 Tremper avenue, and at 2:30 p. m. at the Evangelical Lutheran Church of the Redeemer. Bearers were William Buncie, Charles DuBois, James DiCicco, Jean Van Steenburgh, John Van Steenburgh, Jr., and Abram Van Steenburgh.

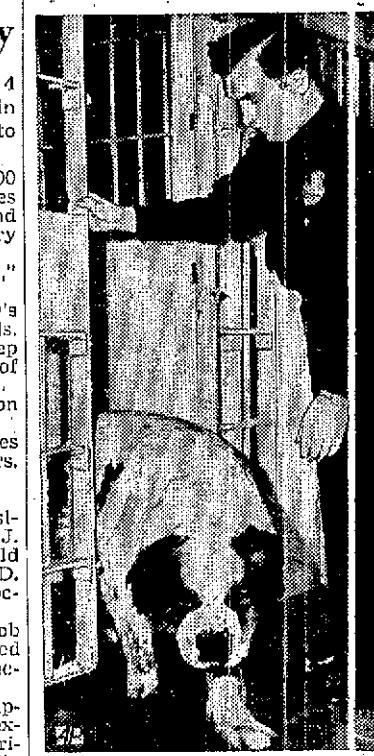

Health Plan Spare Parts
Birmingham, England (AP)—Five thousand persons have applied for artificial eyes under Britain's socialized medicine plan. There have been 126,000 applications for surgical appliances. Nearly 10,000 artificial legs have been ordered, and 3,000 supplied. C. J. Simmons, parliamentary secretary of the Ministry of Pensions, disclosed the figures in a speech in the House of Commons. The Ministry of Pensions handles such applications for the Ministry of Health, which administers the health plan. Simmons said one application for an artificial leg was in behalf of an 18-month-old boy. The child lost his leg in an automobile accident. His name was not disclosed.

Push Vacations on Farms
New York, N. Y. (AP)—An unusual plan for the coming summer months which will increase farm incomes and broaden understanding between urban and rural people has been presented by Rural organizations to members in 12 states from Maine to Virginia. The plan encourages farmers who have two or more spare rooms to take in city vacationers on a paying basis, and thus develop a new type of resort business in rural areas. The project was originated by William P. Wolfe, New York representative.

Financial and Commercial

New York, May 4 (AP)—Demand for stocks suddenly expanded in today's market and prices advanced fractions to an extreme of 3 points.

An opening rush to buy set the market on an upward path. The most urgent demand was soon satisfied but key issues retained all or most of their gains in later trading. In some cases gains were extended.

Turnover for a while was the most rapid in days, with several large blocks of stock being sold to swell the total. A handful of shares established new highs for the year.

A stimulant to buying interest, according to brokerage quarters, was the success thus far of Congressional opposition to administration labor policy.

Dow Chemical was again a strong spot in further response to yesterday's increased dividend. The stock gained a point today in addition to yesterday's rise of 1 1/2.

Automobile stocks improved a bit while a strike called for tomorrow threatened operations at Ford Motor's huge River Rouge plant. Fractional gains posted for General Motors, Chrysler and Studebaker. Ford stock is not traded in the exchange.

Non-ferrous metal issues made a good showing despite recent slack demand for lead, zinc and copper as well as price cuts affecting all three metals. Anaconda was a bit balky but modest improvements were noted in American Smelting and Refining Co., American Tel. & Tel., American Locomotive Co., American Radiator and Am. Smelting and Refining Co.

Corporate Bonds moved narrowly. U. S. government held steady in over-the-counter dealings.

BILL APPROVED

The labor bill bearing the name of Rep. John S. Wood (above) (D-Ga.) and retaining most of the Taft-Hartley Act was approved by the House of Representatives by 217-203 roll-call vote.

Most of T-H . . .

whether Mr. Truman now would take his case back to the whistle stops in a nation-wide tour.

House leaders, including Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex.), had openly conceded that the administration's Taft-Hartley repeal bill, introduced by Rep. Lesinski (D-Mich.) could not pass the House without a number of compromises.

So they offered these amendments yesterday in a substitute bill. To the surprise of some unionists, they even restored the Taft-Hartley Act provision for 80-day injunctions to delay strikes in vital industries. Rayburn himself made one of his rare speeches, fervently begging the House to adopt the substitute.

But late in the afternoon the G.O.P.-Dixie wave rolled over the Rayburn-sponsored bill and washed it out, 211 to 183. A few pro-union congressmen joined the coalition and voted "no."

The Wood bill technically is an amendment to the original Lesinski bill, though in effect it is a complete substitute. After its passage Rep. Calkins (R-Wis.) tried to get the floor to make a motion to "recommit" the entire bill.

But Rep. Marcantonio (American Labor-N. Y.) beat him to it. He demanded the reading of a complete printed copy of the entire bill, as amended. This was frankly a delaying move. Such a copy could not be printed until today. Marcantonio told reporters he used this technically to gain time for drumming up votes for a "recommittal" motion.

So the battle went on until today. And the parliamentary situation was this: If the recommittal motion failed, a final vote would be taken on the Lesinski bill. If the bill passed, the Wood bill would go to the Senate and the House would turn to other matters.

The House debate, which started a week ago yesterday and raged for five daily sessions, was pretty loud at times, but all in all, was conducted without the bitterness that some expected.

Accurate Predictions Bring Prizes, Arrest

Philadelphia, May 4 (AP)—John Lengyel, 29-year-old former Pottstown, Pa., postal clerk, won national attention last fall for his accurate sports predictions.

Lengyel won many prizes for picking the exact final scores of college football and basketball games.

The Sporting News, nationally known sports paper published in St. Louis, featured Lengyel in special articles and awarded him two $200 prizes. The Pottstown (Pa.) Mercury, the Norristown (Pa.) Times-Herald and several New York papers also awarded the postal clerk prizes for predicting sports results.

Today a federal grand jury indicted him on charges of using the U. S. mails to defraud.

Federal District Judge James K. McGranery ordered Lengyel arrested. Assistant U. S. Attorney Fred I. Nech charged Lengyel while working in the Pottstown post office would postmark letters several days before games were played. Then he waited until the game was over, marked the result on his ballot and mailed the letter.

Contest officials, noting the postmark, thought Lengyel's letters were delayed in transit. So they paid him the prize.

Conviction on the mail fraud charge carries a maximum penalty of $1,000 fine and five years imprisonment.

Sail to Get Tests

New York, May 4 (AP)—John Sali, 36-year-old homeless ex-convict indicted for the slaying of eight-year-old Jackie Goldsmith, was committed today to Bellevue Hospital for mental observation. The commitment followed a plea of innocent with a specification of insanity entered by Sali's attorney, Louis Susman. The lawyer told Bronx County Judge James M. Barrett that Sali had been struck over the head 10 or 12 years ago and suffered attacks of dizziness ever since.

Local Youth . . .

rained this morning before City Judge Raymond J. Mino.

The report which set the police in action came from Walter S. Tipp, R.D., Saugerties, who informed the city police at 10:02 p. m., that his car had been stolen "within the past five minutes" from in front of 108 Second avenue.

Headquarters notified the sheriff's office and state police.

Kearor Locates Car

Sheriff George C. Smith notified the local police at 10:27 p. m. that Deputy Sheriff Kearor had located the car and that its driver had abandoned it and ran into the woods off Route 32 at Bloomingington.

This report followed a chase of the car by Kearor from Wilbur to the point where it was abandoned.

Kearor had driven alone downtown with intentions of searching the Edenville area, but at Wilbur he suspected that he had come across the auto and gave chase.

Hits Car Twice

The fleeing car gained headway when it reached Route 31 and Kearor, driving with his right hand, drew his revolver with the other and fired at the car as the two vehicles traveled at high speed over the straight stretch of road just beyond the city limits. A report today indicated that slugs from the revolver had struck the auto twice.

Seward Is Given 90-Days in Jail

Thomas Allen Seward, 21, who was arrested early yesterday on a charge of sodomy, was sentenced today to three months in the county jail by City Judge Raymond Miao. Seward, who was arrested this morning by Sgt. Lemuel Howard at police headquarters on a warrant charging violation of parole, faces a later county court sentence on that charge. The first arrest followed a report to the police from the Boulevard early Tuesday morning.

Use Our Lay-Away Plan

for last night's session, was asked to join the aldermen when they conferred during the recess on the proposal to supply written copies.

Martin asked that letters from state housing officials and other documents in support of his previous arguments against the proposed housing project, be made part of the minutes of the meeting. He said it was "regrettable to me that the mayor has seen fit to veto" two of his resolutions, and he talked at some length in support of points in the papers he presented for the files.

The alderman referred to the veto of his resolution asking for a joint conference between the aldermen and the housing authority on the basis that he was wrong in saying that such a session would be held "for the first time." Since when, he asked, was public housing vested in the authority of one man? The alderman gave the mayor the right to appoint the authority, he contended, and he felt that housing was of as much concern to the council as to the authority.

'False Statements'
Martin said he had been accused of spreading false statements. He referred to publication of an answer by the housing authority to one of his resolutions on educational facilities which stated that "two assumptions," in the resolution "being false, it is believed that the resolution should be discredited."

The answer contended that the local superintendent of schools in a letter dated January 28, 1949, had not said that present school facilities are nothing short of critical.

Martin said he wanted it understood that he was working "with every ounce of honesty, and I hope they (the housing authority) can do the same for us."

The alderman, referring to the statement by Arthur A. Davis, Jr., head of the local housing authority, to the effect that it would take from one to two more months to prepare copies of the lengthy loan application for the aldermen, contended that the spending of more than a million dollars warranted that much time or three or four months, if necessary.

In support of his resolutions which the mayor vetoed on the loan application and that asking the joint meeting of the councilmen and the authority, the alderman said he had traveled considerable distance to get facts on a housing project in one of the state's largest industrial cities, and found that the local legislative body there, and the housing authority, had studied housing together for two years before acting.

Each member of the legislative body in the city, he said, had been supplied during that time with copies of the loan application, and that was why he offered his resolution for copies of the document here. He concluded by "Are we not entitled to say, 'let's look at the facts'?"

The alderman referred back to a previous contention that there was a discrepancy between statements of the local housing authority and State Housing Commissioner Herman T. Stuchman on the number of families to be moved from the clearance area.

Reads From Letter
He read from a letter from the state division of housing indicating that the clearance project would affect 75 to 100 families while 27 families have been mentioned locally, and he asked: "Who is keeping the facts and figures from us?"

The alderman renewed his former argument to the effect that school facilities in the 12th Ward were inadequate and would be overtaken by the project, stressing the letter he said he received from Stuchman's office, and stating that the commissioner himself would determine educational facilities before a project would be allowed. He also read letters by the Parent-Teacher Association of School No. 7, which claimed that school facilities there were inadequate, and one from "three mothers" making the same contention.

Martin asked in concluding that the head of the local housing authority arrange for publication for the benefit of the public certain sections of the housing contract which he listed for the record.

Bruck Cites Criticism
Eighth Ward Alderman Joseph N. Bruck (R.), chairman of the Finance, Ways and Means Committee, which has been weighing the housing proposals, said when Martin finished, that only last week he had been criticized for bringing in the housing authority members at a meeting of the aldermen.

A letter from the Kingston Taxpayers League opposing the housing project, was referred to the Finance Ways and Means Committee.

It said in part: "While this represents only one phase of a joy-ride to ruination, the proposed slum clearance project being fostered upon the citizens of Kingston represents a prime example of an unwanted and unneeded white elephant."

The letter contended that it would increase tax burdens with but negligible return to any person, and it petitioned the council to "immediately cease any further expenditure of taxpayers' money in connection with any housing project and to reduce, or enter into any agreements or contracts that might lead to the building of such project."

The letter contended that the proposal should be submitted to the people for a vote. It was signed by W. L. Rider, temporary chairman.

A copy of the recently published resolution adopted by the Parent-Teacher Association of School No. 7, opposing the project, in the 12th Ward was also referred to the finance committee. Another resolution by the association favoring the designation of Green street as "one-way" was referred to the Traffic Control Committee.

Mayor Newkirk's letters on the veto of the Martin and Buboltz resolutions were filed, and another on the veto of a resolution by Tenth Ward Alderman James J. Carroll, asking the use of the yard of School No. 8 for playground purposes, was also filed.

The mayor's letter on the School No. 8 playground proposal contained a recommendation that a committee be named to confer with the education board on the "advisability of using the school yards for playground purposes and the necessity of supervision," and a recommendation by Tenth named Alderman Carroll, John Dawkins and Paul J. Schatzel.

Hurley Votes Fund For New Services

Under a cooperative services program which will be inaugurated within the supervisory district, pupils of the Hurley school will have available the services of a supervising district nurse, dental hygienist, physical education instructor and grade supervisor during the coming year.

Funds to participate in these services were voted last evening when the annual budget of $31,571 was voted at the annual school meeting. The services will be rendered by instructors who will give part time to the other schools of the supervisory district.

Russell Cunningham was re-elected trustee for a three-year term to succeed himself.

Colonial League Launches Third Season With Six Teams Tonight

Chandler's Decision Insures More Rigid Player Protection

Colonials Open Home On Thursday Night

The Class B Colonial Baseball League opens its third season tonight with a new entry, four new managers, and hopes for the most successful campaign in its short history.

The opening night schedule:

Kingston Colonials at Stamford Pioneers
Poughkeepsie Chiefs at Bridgeport Bees
Waterbury Timers at Bristol Owls

The Kingston Colonials, starting their first full season in the loop, will send veteran Harry Petty against the Stamford Pioneers tonight at Mitchell Stadium in Stamford. The Kingston franchise was transferred from New Brunswick in mid-season of 1948.

Francisco Sastre, Puerto Rican right hander, will pitch the official home opener for the Colonials Thursday night against Stamford.

Big Year Predicted

President John A. Scali Jr. predicts the league will enjoy its most prosperous campaign. The Colonial League has a 140-game schedule for each team.

Bristol, Conn. has replaced the championship Port Chester, N. Y. Clippers in the six-team circuit. The Connecticut entry will be managed by Al Barilari, a hold-over from the New York aggregation.

The only other 1948 skipper in a Colonial League uniform is Julio Laviano, of Kingston, who did part time duty in 1948.

New leaders are Bert Shepard, Waterbury; Woodrow "Woody" Williams, Poughkeepsie; Ollie Byers, Bridgeport; and Joe Glenn, Stamford.

Shepard at Waterbury

Shepard, who came back from the war minus his right leg to win a berth in organized ball, and Williams and Glenn are all ex-military players. Shepard saw pitching service with the Washington Senators; Williams was a Cincinnati Reds infielder and Glenn formerly caught for the New York Yankees.

The Kingston entry is rated vastly superior to the 1948 entry which won fourth place to qualify for the Shughuey playoffs last season.

Although reliable hitters like Manager Eddie Kobesky, Max Goldsmith and Paul Dunlap have departed, the presence of Pete Elko, Gerald Murray and Gil Nijrich is expected to offset that loss.

Boost Crack Infield

Defensively, the Colonials appear to have the best infield in the circuit with Modesto Rodriguez at first; Ed McNamara, All-Star second baseman; Pete Elko, third; and Ralph Matzow, shortstop.

Don "Digger" O'Dell and Ralph Blenchin are holdovers in the outfield, while Gerald Murray appears to have clinched the right field spot vacated by Dunlap. Gil Nijrich of Middletown, N. Y., is the starting catcher but will have to look to his laurels. Manager Julie Laviano has been impressed by Joe Mercurio's throwing arm and batting power. Mercurio came to camp as an outfield candidate available for spot duty.

The pitching staff seems well set with Danny Bourke, Harry Petty and Francisco Sastre as the first line flingers. Ray Reischer and Bobo Cashion and Norm Southard form the second line of defense.

Cup Challengers Await Second Round

London, May 4 (AP)—Sixteen challengers for the U. S.-held Davis cup were ready today for the second of European zone elimination.

Chile overcame the Irish in Dublin last night, 3 to 2, to complete the list of survivors after a week-end of lawn tennis across Europe.

There wasn't an upset in the first round. In five other matches, all 5-0 shutouts, France beat Luxembourg, Denmark routed Israel; Czechoslovakia eliminated Monaco; Great Britain ousted Portugal and South Africa routed The Netherlands. The other ten nations did not have to play in the first round.

Yesterday's Stars

(By The Associated Press)
Pitching—Walt Dubiel, Cubs, blanked the Boston Braves, 4-0 on five hits, fanning four and walking none.

Batting—Clyde Volmer, Senators, socked two homers, double and single, scored four runs and drove in three in Washington's 14-12 ten inning victory over Chicago.

This Shot Made Bowling History

When Herb Kessman, above, achieved the rare conversion of the 7-10 split in the Twilight Mixed League session Monday at the Ruzzo Bowlatorium, he became the first bowler in local history to convert that spare in league play. Down through the years there have been occasional reports of bowlers doing the trick in open play but these stories have never been substantiated.

Kessman, who says "I was really trying for it, I try for all splits," cleaned it off by slicing the 7-pin off the back cushion against the 10.

A member of the Colonial Men's and the Twilight Mixed League, Kessman has been bowling about 10 years and carries an average of about 188. He previously bowled in Yonkers.

Kessman will receive national publicity for his shot through the American Bowling Congress' weekly news sheet. It's the kind of shot every bowler dreams about but seldom achieves. Something like the hole-in-one in golf. (Freeman Photo)

Bowling

You never have to worry about who led the Rip Van Winkle League in scoring. Just look for Floyd Barnum's name and there you have it.

It says here that Floyd knocked off 191-132-209-532 last night. That was high score, alright. Other high totals were W. Dunham 470, J. Ryan 489, W. Lawrence 471, D. Truesdell 450, Joe Bosco 457, J. Houghtaling 452, Ken Boughton, Jr., 455.

Jo Smith, one of the several proficient women executive-keepers, posted a 511 series to pace the Friendship League last night at the Central Recs. She had scores of 150, 196, 163.

Reta Frederick accounted for the other five-hundred with 190-158-504. Tess Moss shot 497, Helen Murphy 495, Dot Rawding 485, Carrie Mohr 468, M. Van Alstyne 457, Miriam Posner 457, Marge Jansen 457, E. Singer 456, B. Arlensky 455, A. Mitchell 452.

Clarence Herdman stepped out with high triple honors in the Twilight Mixed League at the Bowlatorium last night with a steady 200-162-200-562. The total shaded Jim Pruden by a single stick. Pruden stacked games of 216-181-184.

One of the league highlights was the rousing 220 single by Evelyn Francis. She had other games of 168 and 158 for a 546 overall.

Other top efforts included Fred Schryver's 218-551; Ken Ladel 238-548; Ad Jones 205-545; Perc Slover 219-543; Bud Evans 200-540; Jack Martin 535; Charlie Korman 329; Joe "Lottie" Canhara 538; Herb Kessman 203-522 (and the 7-10 split, too); Mitzie Arlensky 522; Johnny Lowe 520; Chris Backman 530 and Bill Mohr 501.

Until 1896 the Kentucky Derby

Derby was run at one and one-half miles, since that date it has been a mile and a quarter.

New York, May 4 (AP)—Commissioner A. B. Chandler's admonition that "ball players have a right to protection from unwarranted abuse" drew a round of lusty "amens" today from major league club officials.

Many of them said they were heartily in accord with the commissioner's view of the subject and those who hadn't already taken such precautions promised to do so immediately.

Several clubs said they had taken steps long ago to protect players from fans after the game.

Chandler's reproof came in his statement yesterday reinstating Leo Durocher as manager of the New York Giants after a brief suspension.

The commissioner blamed the New York Giant baseball club in a large measure for Durocher's altercation with a fan in center field at the Polo Grounds last Thursday.

He said the Polo Grounds wasn't properly policed and the fan, Fred Boysen, should not have been permitted in the box seat section without a ticket or allowed to "hurl insulting language."

Giants Take Steps
Horace Stoneham, president of the Giants, promised quick action.

"Hereafter no fan will be permitted on the field until all players have reached the clubhouse," he said. This rule was enforced last night after the Giants beat Pittsburgh, 5-3.

George Weiss, general manager of the New York Yankees, said tunnels in the rear of each dugout provide a quick exit for the athletes to their dressing rooms. He said no fans have been allowed on the playing surface of the diamond.

At Cleveland, the customers are forbidden to go onto the playing field.

Branch Rickey, president of the Brooklyn Dodgers, said he didn't have to worry about fan-player flareups on the field. "Our players go right into the clubhouse direct," he said. "They have no contact with the public after the games."

Durocher Happy

New York, May 4 (AP)—Leo Durocher, off baseball's gridlock, resumed his role as manager of the New York Giants today, but still faced court action charging him with striking a Brooklyn fan. The tempestuous Giant pilot, after sweating out four days of an indefinite suspension, was cleared and reinstated yesterday in less than two hours before Commissioner A. B. Chandler in Cincinnati.

Chandler held there wasn't sufficient evidence to show that Durocher had deliberately assaulted Fred Boysen, a vociferous Dodger rooster, after the wild game at the Polo Grounds last Thursday.

"I am very happy about it all," Durocher said upon his return to New York. "I am very anxious to get back to work."

Durocher picks up the Giants' reins today from Frankie Frisch, who has been acting manager. The Giants play Pittsburgh in an afternoon game.

Durocher showed no concern over the simple-assault summons which Boysen's attorney promised would be served as quickly as possible. The summons is returnable in upper Manhattan court Monday.

Graziano Seeks To Clear Name

Chicago, May 4 (AP)—Rocky Graziano pleads for reinstatement today before the new Illinois Boxing Commission headed by Joe Triner, an ex-army officer and courts martial expert.

Graziano, who won the middleweight crown from Tony Zale and then lost it to the Gary, Ind., slugger, wants to fight in Chicago this summer. He is so determined,

In fact, that friends say he has been training for three weeks.

The National Boxing Association lifted its ban on Graziano Dec. 8, 1947, then slapped it back on Nov. 26, 1948, after he "ran out" on a bout with Fred Apostoli in Oakland, Calif.

The ex-champion also was barred in New York for failure to report an alleged bribe.

"Graziano made a mistake but paid for it by serving 10 months in Fort Leavenworth, Kas., before being dishonorably discharged," said Triner, who served in Europe in both wars. "He didn't desert the army. He went A.W.O.L. There's a big difference."

MAJOR LEAGUE ROUNDUP

By The Associated Press

It looks as if this will be a happy and prosperous year for the "swing-from-the-hill" boys, better known as the home run hitting fraternity.

Time was when such sluggers as Babe Ruth, Lou Gehrig, Jimmy Foxx, Mel Ott, Hack Wilson and Hank Greenberg had a monopoly on the four-base wallop. Not so today. Everybody wants to—and usually does—get into the act.

Already 87 athletes have poked at least one over the fence.

Here Friday

BILL SHAUL
William B. "Billy" Shaul, who is generally regarded as the greatest bowling instructor in the country, will appear at the Ruzzo Bowlatorium for free instruction and exhibitions on Friday, May 6.

Shaul is scheduled to appear at 2 p. m. and 7:30. He will roll against local aces after instruction periods.

The nationally known bowler from Syracuse has devised a unique method of spare shooting and demonstrates his technique through the use of colored pins.

In the past 16 years, Shaul has maintained a 203 average in league matches and during the same time has averaged 199 in his annual ABC events.

Shaul scored a terrific hit in an appearance at the Central Recs several years ago.

He was third in the 1936 ABC singles at Indianapolis and has won the doubles, all-events and has been on the winning five-man team in New York State championship tournaments.

Santa Clara freshmen football coach Eddie Forrest never played on a losing team in the annual football game against St. Mary's.

Eight horses have won racing's triple crown, the Kentucky Derby, Preakness and Belmont Stakes—Sir Barton, Gallant Fox, Omaha, War Admiral, Whirlaway, Count Fleet, Assault and Citation.

Radio and television rights for the 1949 World Series were sold for $150,000 and $140,000 respectively.

Altogether they've accounted for 159 round trippers. The list of fence busters includes such "all-stars" as Luke Appling, Mike Cuerra, Mark Christman, Al Evans, Mike McCormick and Richie Ashburn.

Appling failed to hit a single home run in 1939 games last year. McCormick, Guerra and Christman had one apiece, and Evans and Ashburn put together two each.

Even the rookies are taking the hint and gripping the bat at the very end of the handle. Already Johnny Groth (5), Clyde Vollmer (4), Jack Graham (4), Glen Folsom, Stan Lopata, Puddin' Head Jones, Pete Milne, Lloyd McMillan, Gene Woodling, Jerry Coleman, Dick Krynoski, Jerry Scala and Gus Zernial have rocked the ball out of the park.

No fewer than nine home runs were hit at Comiskey Park yesterday, seven by Washington and two by Chicago. That was only one short of the major league record.

Those seven round trippers helped the Senators outslug the Chicago 14-12 in a 10-inning Donnellybrook. Clyde Vollmer, rookie outfielder led the hit parade with two homers, a single and double. But it was home runs by Evans and Gil Coan in the 10th that decided the issue. Other homer hitters were Washington's Eddie Robinson, Christman and Ed Stewart and Chicago's Gus Zernial and Joe Tipton.

Sox-Tiger Slugfest
The Boston Red Sox and Detroit Tigers played a 14-14 tie that was halted by darkness after 13 innings. This slugfest, which produced four home runs, two by each side, Vern Stephens hammered his sixth and Ted Williams his third for the Red Sox, and Johnny Groth hit his fifth and Aaron Robinson his third for the Tigers.

The New York Yankees, aided by Phil Rizzuto's home run, led off the St. Louis Browns, 1-3, to increase their lead in the league to three full games. Joe Page, who relieved starter Ed Lopat in the seventh, retired a new man in a row to receive credit for his second relief victory of the season.

Branca Hurts Shutout
The pitchers fared much better in the National League where Ralph Branca of Brooklyn shut out the Cincinnati Reds 3-0 and Walter Dubiel pitched the Chicago Cubs to a 4-0 victory over the Boston Braves. In other games, the New York Giants inaugurated their night schedule by whipping the Pittsburgh Pirates, 5-3, and the Philadelphia Phillies won their fourth straight by defeating the St. Louis Cardinals, 7-3.

Sid Gordon, Willard Marshall and Mickey Livingston cracked home runs off Murray Dickson to help Clint Hartung register his third victory for the Giants. Gordon, who leads the National League with five round trippers, also walloped a double and triple.

Phil Cavarretta made things a bit easier for Dubiel with his four-base knock as the right-hander permitted only five Boston hits and allowed only one runner to reach third. Dubiel did not walk a batter for the second straight game.

Sports Editor

Bagatelles:

Kingston launches its third straight year of organized baseball tonight in Stamford. The home opener is scheduled tomorrow night with Stamford at the municipal stadium.

The year 1949, the third for the league, finds the Colonial loop solidly entrenched and facing its best year since 1947. Bristol is a valuable addition, having replaced Port Chester, N. Y., a town where they couldn't chase people into the park, even for free. Something like the 1947 Class D situation in Kingston.

We predict that Kingston fans will be pleasantly surprised by Julie Laviano's 1949 edition. The club is forty per cent stronger than last year, has better balance, more speed and hustle. With decent pitching it should be a formidable pennant contender.

Flotsam and Jetsam:

We think Kingston fans will like Pete Elko, Gil Njirich, Modesto Rodriguez and Gerald Murray, the principal newcomers. Let us not overlook the most popular player on the roster, Don "Digger" O'Dell, the famous plebeian expert, Johnny Elonchin, and that robust double play combination of Eddie McNamara and Ralph Elonchin.

Elonchin was a disappointment at the plate last season but if he can hit between .280 and .300 he can earn his board and bed. There isn't a better centerfielder in the league and he is a leader in stolen bases.

Between Gerald Murray, a hard hitting outfield prospect, and Pete Elko, third base guardian, the Colonials will have to generate enough power to offset the loss of Ed Kobesky. Modesto Rodriguez will make plays that the ex-mgr. couldn't touch at first base but is shy on power. Then Max Goldsmith has departed.

Let's Cop the Cup:

President Ted Laviano would experience indescribable joy if Kingston were to win the "Presidents' Cup" which is awarded to the city which draws the largest opening night attendance.

If Kingston can grab something as big as the New York State Women's tournament from New York city, then the Catskill mountain folks should be able to top other cities in the Colonial League for opening night interest.

Kingston is the smallest city in the league, with the transfer of the Port Chester franchise to Bristol, Connecticut. The Nutmeg State city is something like 2,000 pop. larger on the basis on 1940 census. Just in case you are interested, here are the 1940 census figures for member cities in the Colonial League: Bridgeport-147,212; Waterbury 99,314; Stamford 47,938; Poughkeepsie 40,478; Bristol 30,167; and Kingston 28,589. The unofficial 1947 estimate for Kingston was 30,500, but it must be presumed that Bristol and other cities have shown a comparable increase.

Colonial League Filbert:

Walter Kennedy, the new PRO officer of the league, has just completed a brochure on Colonial League history and the former Notre Dame public relations representative has done his usual good job.

Warn via the brochure that: Waterbury has the largest seating capacity for its stadium, 7,500. Other figures, Bridgeport 6,500, Poughkeepsie 5,500, Bristol 5,000, Stamford 5,000, Kingston's capacity is set at 5,000. Poughkeepsie and Bristol have the best lighting systems, with Kingston third. Waterbury won the 1947 pennant and Port Chester was tops in 1948. Connie Creeden of Port Chester won the batting crown in 1947 with .395. Eddie Kobesky was high with .380 last year. Dick Welteroth, Bridgeport 1947, is now pitching for the Washington Senators. 1948 highlights: Sid Schacht, Stamford, beat ERA, 2.09; best winning percentage Paul Wargo, Port Chester, 16-3; George Bird of Bridgeport pitched a no-hitter against Stamford on June 8. Fred Luciano, Bridgeport, pitched most innings (202), started most games (27), hit most batsmen (13); Mahlon "Red" Turner, Kingston holdout, lost most games, 15.

Cerdan-Robinson Under Pressure

New York, May 4 (AP)—The Tournament of Champions felt stout pressure from two sides today.

1. The Twentieth Century Sporting Club has gone to court in an effort to prevent the T-of-C from staging a summer fight involving welterweight champion Ray Robinson.

2. Middleweight champion Marcel Cerdan's American manager has given the promotional group two days to make a decision about Cerdan's scheduled summer title defense.

The Twentieth Century has served papers on both Robinson and the T-of-C, calling them into Supreme Court to show why Robinson shouldn't be restrained from fighting for anyone but Mike Jacobs' group.

The Twentieth Century contends it has a five-year contract with Robinson which doesn't expire until the fall of 1950.

Robinson already has announced through a telegram to Col. Edward Egan, chairman of the New York Athletic Commission—that he will defend his title this summer for the T of C.

The Tournament of Champions has kept mum on the whole business.

GLASS
Gives a home
Greater beauty
and charm!
Pittsburgh Plate Glass mirrors, furniture tops and shelves can be used in a score of places to add beauty and sparkle to your home. A Venetian-type mirror over a mantel or sofa can add spaciousness to a living room. Over a buffet it makes mealtime more cheerful. A full-length door mirror can brighten a dark hall or bedroom. And with furniture tops protecting fine furniture there's no need to worry about stains, scratches, cigarette burns or mars.
